

*Some cats with white spots have quite a lot
Some cats with white spots have only a dot
Why it varies, no one knows
But if a cat has White Spotting, it's bound to show!*

The White Spotting (Ws) variant is found in many breeds of cat. It is a dominant trait, so only one copy is needed to produce some amount of white spotting. Other as-of-yet unknown genes control the extent and pattern of white spotting. White spotting can occur on top of any base coat color and pattern.
